DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 19-47, 64-83 and 88-92, previously withdrawn from consideration as a result of a restriction requirement, requires all the limitations of an allowable claim.

Pursuant to the procedures set forth in MPEP § 821.04(a), the restriction requirement between inventions of species from figures 5, 6 and 9, as set forth in the Office action mailed on 09/21/2006, is hereby withdrawn and claims 19-47, 64-83 and 88-92 are hereby rejoined and fully examined for patentability under 37 CFR 1.104. In view of the withdrawal of the restriction requirement, applicant(s) are advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Once the restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. See In re Ziegler, 443 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Patrick Reed (Reg. No. 61,227) on October 25, 2010.

The application has been amended as follows:

42. (currently amended). A ~~computer-readable medium~~ computer storage media having computer-executable instructions for performing the method recited in Claim 1.

43. (currently amended). A ~~computer-readable medium~~ computer storage media having computer-executable instructions for performing the method recited in Claim 15.

44. (currently amended). A ~~computer-readable medium~~ computer storage media having computer-executable instructions for performing the method recited in Claim 32.

82. (currently amended). A ~~computer-readable medium~~ computer storage media having computer-executable instructions for performing the method recited in Claim 48.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-12, 15-59 and 61-94 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Independent claims 1, 48 and 84, when considered as a whole, are allowable over the prior art of record.

Art Unit: 2179

Specifically, the prior art of DragThing (consisting of three separate references all directed towards a single product offering, references: “APPLE”, “DT1” and “DT2” from the Office Action are herein collectively called “DragThing”) teaches the limitation: “a graphical user interface tool, herein “dock”, which displays to the user a predetermine area to manage shortcuts, running applications, programs, settings all represented by varying icons; wherein the user can customize the dock or create more than one dock, to organize the icons to aid in the user running the computer”. But the claims recite a different combination of limitation: “forming a group of software applications in the first graphical window, the group comprising the first software application and the other than the first software application, the forming comprising: ...receiving a single user action to act upon the group; and performing, upon the receiving, the single user action to each of the software applications in the group substantially simultaneously without a user applying a sequence of user actions to each of the software applications individually in the group” (herein, limitation A), that is not suggested or shown by DragThing.

The prior art of Westerman teaches another combination, “a user interface for handling a group of screen objects wherein the interface creates a viewport in a portion of the display screen; the user is able to define a set of planes and assign each object to one of the planes”, but does not suggest “limitation A”.

The dependent claims further add limitations to the allowable subject matter of the corresponding independent claims; thus are also allowable. Therefore the claims are allowed over the art because the claims differ in scope that is not seen or suggested by the prior art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
